

College Options to Consider

Students with specific learning disabilities often need to strengthen their academic skills and coping strategies in order to be successful in post secondary studies. Whichever path you choose, the Glenn Crombie Centre for disability services is available to support you along the way.

TCPG- Transition to College Program	Access- Upgrading	General Arts/ College Exploration Program	Post Secondary Programs
For students who: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- are not yet ready for post secondary studies</li> <li>- may require additional academic training</li> <li>- learn best with teacher-led instruction</li> <li>- would benefit from learning adaptive technology to enhance their academic skills</li> <li>- need to develop individualized learning strategies before starting post secondary</li> </ul>	For students who: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- are not ready for post secondary studies</li> <li>- require additional academic training</li> <li>- are independent learners</li> <li>- benefit from content tutoring to strengthen their academic skills</li> </ul>	For students who: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- are eligible for post secondary studies</li> <li>- need some prerequisites or strengthening of academic skills before pursuing further studies</li> <li>- want to explore different program options</li> <li>- benefit from program supports (orientation, accommodations, access to technology and/or tutoring)</li> </ul>	For students who: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- are eligible for post secondary studies</li> <li>- benefit from program supports (orientation, accommodations, access to technology and/or tutoring)</li> </ul>